Farmers' Market returns July 9

Buy local at City Hall Plaza

BROCKTON -- Mayor Linda M. Balzotti is happy to announce that Farmers' Market will return to City Hall Plaza, 45 School St., beginning Friday, July 9. The Farmers' Market will be held rain or shine, every Friday, from 10:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. until Friday, Oct., 29.

"This is a wonderful tradition in our city," said Mayor Linda M. Balzotti. "The Farmers' Market is a fantastic opportunity for our residents to purchase fresh, local produce and products, and bring those items home to share with friends and family."

Senior citizens and residents eligible for WIC can purchase items using a discount voucher. The vouchers for senior citizens are available at Old Colony Elder Services, 144 Main St., or by calling (508) 584-1561. WIC-eligible residents can get vouchers at 795 Pleasant St., or by calling (508) 588-8241.

This year will feature produce from four farms across the region, as well as syrups, jams, and plants.

Andrew Gulezian, a representative of the UMass Extension, will be on hand each week providing healthy meal demonstrations.
